ABOUT THE PETTIS NORMAN AWARD

The Pettis Norman Award is the highest honor awarded from Johnson C. Smith University Athletics to recognize the outstanding performance in the field of competition of a male and female student-athlete throughout the academic year.

Pettis Norman is a graduate of Johnson C. Smith University and former all-conference tight end, The University elected to name the annual award for the most outstanding student-athlete after him because of his outstanding character and athletic achievement.

Norman was selected by the Dallas Texans in the 16th round of the 1962 AFL Draft, but opted to play for the NFL's Dallas franchise instead. Norman played for the Dallas Cowboys for 9 seasons and saw Cowboys rise from a poor team to the NFL's best.

In 1977, he was inducted into the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) Hall of Fame. During his career, he was known for his toughness and his blocking.

Norman, lives with his wife, Ivette, in South Dallas. He remains a busy entrepreneur. Norman stays active in community affairs, particularly educational issues, and recently was awarded Johnson C. Smith's highest honor: The Arch of Triumph.
